Dear Ms. McCracken,

My name is Alida Montanez-Salas and I'm the Records Librarian at the Superfund Records Center in charge of the perchlorate documents. I was told that you're the EPA contact that can help me with some questions that I have.

In the course of indexing the documents I found certain problems with some of the documents. Perhaps the documents are as they're supposed to be, but if not, I'm letting you know about these problems.

These are the documents in question:

- A) "Toxicity test for soil and sediment using EISENIA sp.", April 1998 - missing page 9
- B) "Oral (drinking water) two-generation (one litter per generation) reproduction study of ammonium perchlorate in rats", final interim report, Argus Laboratories protocol no. 1416-001, September 15, 1998 - missing pages 47, 48 and 49
- C) Werner Gauss [article in German] "Das Verhalten adulte mause", February 1, 1972 - has very poor legibility and is missing:
 - Part I - pages 472-495 and 497-500
 - Part II - pages 84-114 and 117-?
- D) "Percutaneous absorption", a chapter by R. Scheuplein and R. Bronaugh in the book titled Biochemistry and Physiology of Skin, vol.2, 1983, edited by Lewell Goldsmith, Oxford University Press - the document sent to the Records Center consists of one page (page 1279). Is this correct? or am I missing the rest of the chapter?

The question that I have refers to an organization:

- 1) The Interagency Perchlorate Steering Committee - which US government agency has primary responsibility for it?: EPA?, US Dept. of Health?, other agency? I need this information for the authority list of organizations.

My phone is 536-2008 and I can be reached from 8 am to 4:30 pm during the week. My email is Montanez.Alida@epamail.epa.gov. Thanks for you time and attention.

Sincerely,

A. Montanez-Salas

NOTES: Dear Annie, Thanks for the email message - it's been too long since we have talked! I am trying to put the FAQ together as a Region IX information piece and look forward to your input. Also, I wanted to share the attached memo with you which came from the Superfund Records Center. Let's find some time (probably in Ontario) to discuss. I know that we want to be sure that the information being provided to people from the Records Center is complete, either in the paper or CD formats. I have let the Records Center know that I am working on sorting it all out, and will get back to them. I look forward to seeing you next week and will be interested to hear about the SOT meeting in New Orleans. I am travelling to Ontario Thursday a.m. and leaving Friday early p.m. Give me a call if you have any questions.
